Dear Parents,

I am still waiting for confirmation from the Rachel Carson Reserve. Right now they are trying to see when we can come based on the tide. If the tide is in, we will not be able to do the activities, therefore there isn't a reason for us to attend. As soon as I know the new date for our trip, I will let you know.

EOG's are right around the corner; May 21 & 22 to be exact. We will be doing a lot of reading testlets in class to prepare for the way items will look on the EOG. We will also be doing a lot of math review. Your child isn't too old for you to sit down with while they are doing homework and reading. If your child is struggling in any areas of reading or math, please take the time to give them additional help at home. There are numerous online resources located on the school webpage. If you need specific skills addressed that you can not find resources for, please ask and I will be happy to help you find them.

Have a wonderful week,
Mrs. Sanders
